

Foreword

As Editor of VIRT&L-COMM is a great pleasure for me to host in the present Special issue of the e-Magazine the contributions associated with the talks to be delivered at the ECTN General Assembly (as it has been already done in the previous two years). The contributions witness the wide range of activities of the thematic network and its commitment to contribute to Open Science.

PS Just before publishing this issue we learnt that the ECTN General Assembly had been moved to the first weekend of October.
