

2021 SHORT REPORT FROM THE NAPLES EChemTest® ATS

Riccardo Tesser, Università di Napoli Federico II, Napoli, IT (riccardo.tesser@unina.it)

Based on our experience in the ATS of Naples, some difficulties have arisen in carrying out the Echemtests as they are in English while for the students it would be much better if they were administered in Italian.

Personally, I am available, as I had already pointed out, to gradually translate the test, starting from level 1 libraries, into Italian as long as I am enabled by the webmaster to insert the Italian version on the platform.

In the meantime, we are evaluating the possibility of using some basic libraries in the current form (English) for an access test to the master's degree in Science and Technology of Industrial Chemistry but this will take quite a long time.